

UP FRONT

12 Mid-year report on A&D companies provides fresh clues on the effects of leaner budgets, rising jet demand

THE WORLD

13 India prepares to open bids for the two Medium Multi-Role Combat Aircraft finalists before Oct. 31

14 Aviation Week's Fred George wins NBAA award for lifetime achievement and editorial excellence

PROPULSION

22 Pratt and Rolls challenge GE and Snecma with new engine joint venture aimed at midsize transports

AIR TRANSPORT

24 Increasing weakness in air cargo points to dreary days for international passenger business

27 Airbus and Boeing again may be forced to rely on export credit agencies to sustain their deliveries

52

How far is China's military reach? The answer depends on what it wants to do. A Chinese warship deployed to the Mediterranean this year, so, by that yardstick, global reach is at hand. Substitution of J-11 Flankers for older aircraft is one of the many ways in which China is extending its so-far limited power-projection capability.

28 Fraught relationship between EU and aerospace/airline industry playing out over emissions trading

ARMY AVIATION

29 Early flight demo decision catches some of the five Armed Aerial Scout contenders unprepared

30 AAI unveils upgraded Shadow as U.S. Army expands the so-far unarmed UAV's capabilities

DEFENSE

31 Divisions appearing in united defense industry-Congress front against potential military cuts

32 Rand report: U.S. should look to long-range strike and intel weapons to hold Beijing at risk

33 Italy notches another European first by simultaneously flying three UAS in civilian airspace and over ground

51 USMC touts Afghanistan success of KC-130J's precision-guided munitions and explores upgrades

SPACE

34 U.S. outlines criteria for commercial rocket makers to break into national security space arena

36 India's launch of satellite to study climate and atmosphere boosts country into space-partnering club

49 EADS Astrium enters uncharted territory in accepting ESA backing to build a high-speed data service

50 Singapore strives to establish itself as a space industry center for the Asia-Pacific region

55

BUSINESS AVIATION

37 Dassault and Embraer deals fuel speculation about China's market potential for business aircraft

43 Winglets to take center stage as bizav increasingly looks to new shapes and concepts for savings

AIR TRAFFIC MANAGEMENT

44 Serious questions being asked about whether revised timetable for an ATC upgrade can be met

45 Satellite-based airport approach advantages being compromised by slow deployment worldwide

46 Efficiency gains spur introduction in many countries of required navigation performance approaches

AIRLINES

47 Now that Taiwan's China Airlines has joined SkyTeam, its growth potential will depend on Beijing.

CHINA'S MILITARY BUILDUP

52 Multitude of Chinese defense programs promise to increase the country's strategic reach

54 China's assertive claim to South China Sea sparks arms race that is taking on greater sense of urgency

55 Interest grows in a U.S. aviation force that could carry out strike missions thousands of miles away

56 Washington and Beijing continue to eye each other warily while assessing if the other could be an ally or foe

MILITARY AIRCRAFT UPDATE

60 With few programs beginning soon, industry turns to long-standing needs that can now be addressed

EDITORIAL

78 European Union's cap-and-trade emissions system threatens all of the world's airlines

22