

News

WEAPONS & EQUIPMENT

- 4 GDLS UK targets MIV requirement
- 5 BAE Systems sets sights on UK BMD radar
- 6 USMC to equip Harriers with Link 16 datalink
- 8 MDA prepares for major tests in 2016, 2017
- 10 RAF flight trials Typhoon P2Ea system upgrades
- 12 ALAT helicopters prepare for transportation in Africa
- 13 Israel set to launch Carmel combat vehicle programme
- 14 NAWC Weapons Division updates BQM-34 targets to sustain training

MISSILES & ROCKETS

- 16 UK drops Storm Shadow from F-35B follow-on integration plan
- 18 France finally green lights Aster development
- 19 Raytheon plans further Tomahawk tests in 2016
- 20 Raytheon selected to deliver next-generation tactical missile solutions
- 21 Lockheed Martin looks to add to LRASM family

UNMANNED SYSTEMS

- 22 Roke targets autonomous technology
- 23 DARPA eyes counter-UUV technologies

- 24 RDN enhances remote MCM
- 25 Canada revisiting JUSTAS UAV programme

Special reports

- 26 TACIP: Airbus evolves deployable communications solution
- 28 UAV engines: Rotron eyes next-generation systems
- 30 Cold weather combat: reshaping Arctic warfare training
- 32 Advancing ammunition: Nexter Munitions develops new rounds
- 34 Powering up: CEFAR2 radar aims at Project SEA 5000

Features

- 38 Next-generation body armour evolves to meet new threats
- 44 Heavy work: upping the tempo of underway replenishment
- 50 A pod for all seasons: evolving multirole airborne sensors

EQUIPMENT PROFILE

- 56 JLTV journey: armoured mobility trucks take to the road

TECHNOLOGY REPORT

- 60 Beyond the DARPA Robotics Challenge

PARTING SHOT

- 66 TRAPS

On the cover

on the web

30

The Norwegian Army is at the forefront of Arctic warfare and is now reshaping its training to meet a changing operational scenario in the High North

For more, see ihs.com/janes

- DOT&E seeks fixes for US Navy surface EW testing
- Russian university develops tank training projectile
- AFSOC to field special mission Reaper UAV

Online content only available to online subscribers

MITY
THE M&A BANK
BY WINTER