

AVIATIONWEEK↑

& SPACE TECHNOLOGY

December 24, 2018-January 13, 2019 · Volume 180 · Number 25

FEATURES

- 10 | Beyond Pluto
Three years after a stunning, wondrous peek at Pluto, NASA's New Horizons is poised to encounter Ultima Thule
- 16 | Rising Tide
 Airbus will double its commercial aircraft production workforce in Mobile, Alabama, as it ramps up A220 final assembly there

DEPARTMENTS

- 6 | Feedback
- 7 | Second Take
- 9 | The Launchpad
- 135 | Aerospace Calendar
- 135 | Contact Us
- 136 | Classified

SPACE

- 12 | A new generation of GPS satellites prepares for flight
-  13 | Virgin Galactic's Unity spaceplane blazes a trail to space
- 14 | Electrification sparks rethink in NASA X-plane plans

COMMERCIAL AVIATION

- 17 | Projects to make aerospace composites greener gather pace
- 19 | Asian LCCs build fleets despite profit pressure

DEFENSE

- 20 | Northrop Grumman formally unveils its Firebird UAS
- 21 | F-16 market share continues to grow in Europe

VIEWPOINT

- 138 | Restoring an American treasure, the Smithsonian's Air & Space Museum

AEROSPACE & DEFENSE 2019

FEATURES

- 24 | Milestones for the Year Ahead
From trade wars to treaty withdrawals, Brexit disruption to regional aggression, delivery struggles to political scandals, the decade is not going out without a fight
- 26 | Watchpoints for 2019
Selected developments to keep an eye on in the new year
- 30 | Defense Competitions
 Military requirements for fighters, tankers and more around the world
- 36 | Defense Profiles
Budgets for military spending are on the rise in Europe, Asia, the Middle East and North America
- 54 | Defense Systems
 Rivalries grow in the fighter and UAS markets, partnerships develop in tanker production, and hypersonics move into the spotlight
- 70 | Aerospace Systems
 Military demand boosts rotorcraft, airliner production dominates engines, satellite industry transitions, China takes launch lead
- 90 | Business Aviation
 New-model deliveries will bring a needed boost to this fitter, more focused sector
- 95 | Commercial Aviation
 Smoother airliner production, tighter pilot training regimes, airline failures, fleet changes and alliance shifts are on the horizon
- 116 | Maintenance, Repair & Overhaul
What is behind the cautious optimism about the aviation aftermarket in the coming year

SPOTLIGHTS

- 58 | Sixth-Generation Combat Aircraft
- 65 | Hypersonic Strike Weapons
- 66 | Unmanned Military Aircraft
- 72 | Commercial & Military Engines
- 76 | Urban Air Mobility
- 78 | Spaceports Around the World
- 88 | Satellite Servicing
- 92 | Commercial Aviation Projections & People To Watch
- 131 | MRO Top 10

ON THE COVER

As the decade closes, a return to superpower competition dominates. China is moving rapidly to challenge U.S. technological superiority, particularly its stealthy fighters and bombers—symbolized by this U.S. Air Force Lockheed Martin F-35 of the 338th Fighter Wing at Hill AFB, Utah, photographed from a McDonnell Douglas KC-10 tanker over Texas. U.S. Air Force photo by Staff Sgt. Michael Ki Hong.

Aviation Week publishes a digital edition every week. Read it at AviationWeek.com/awst

DIGITAL EXTRAS

Access exclusive online features from articles accompanied by this icon.